

N Feedback: The Path Forward

Leadership lab opportunity!

These leadership labs will be virtual/live events with an opportunity for application and practice of key leadership skills related to our People and Team practices.

Who should attend?

Novant Health leaders

Pre-work & course materials

1. Write down feedback you would like to deliver to a colleague, that you would like help formulating.
2. Look for an email post-registration, with the course journal. Print prior to class to follow along.

Webinar date and time

Tuesday, April 25, 10 a.m. to noon

Register by browsing in I-Learn (NetLearning in New Hanover) for: CEL0026 Feedback: The Path Forward. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email with further details for accessing the course materials and attending

Objectives

The information in this course will help you to:

- Identify the components of effective feedback.
- Demonstrate skills necessary for effectively giving and receiving feedback.
- Identify feedback triggers.