

N Working in High Performing Teams

Invitation for team building education!

For a team to achieve peak performance, its members must involve, support, and trust one another. And they must share information and commit to a process that will lead to success.

This course will help you to enhance team effectiveness and maximize not only performance, but also impact on the organization as a whole. Participants learn the personal, inter-personal and business advantages of working together as a unit and are introduced to a set of best practices for optimal results.

Who should attend?

Novant Health leaders and team members

Webinar date and time

Thursday, April 1, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Register in I-Learn by browsing for: CEGC0002 Working in High Performing Teams. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email with further details.

Objectives

After successful completion, you will be able to:

- Enhance team effectiveness and maximize performance and impact on the organization.
- Identify the personal, inter-personal and business advantages of working together as a unit.
- Identify best practices for optimal results.

ANCC Credit

3.75 hours

Novant Health Nursing Professional Development is an approved provider of nursing continuing professional development by the North Carolina Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.